Opening Prayer - David

Worship Support Teams

- Communion:
 - Next communion service is on November 4th, the class of 2019 will serve in the pews with a gluten free option in the center section
 - We discussed some different options for the next time we serve by intinction:
 - The bread was cut into pieces that were too big
 - The gluten free bread was falling apart as it was dipped in the wine
 - Possibly use wafers instead of bread?
 - Have the serving elder give the bread to the congregant to make sure the piece is big enough to dip
 - Go back to the mats do keep from dripping?
- Worship & Sanctuary Enhancements
 - There is a concern that the sanctuary ceiling above the piano is leaking, need to remind building and grounds address to avoid damage to the piano
 - The blinds near the Audio / Video booth still need to be replaced
- Scripture Readers
 - Fine for the foreseeable future
- Sound & Video
 - We are on hold waiting for Audio and Light to install the equipment
 - Bob and David to meet to discuss a bright light on the wall behind the pulpit that is distracting when the projector is on
- Ushers & Acolytes
 - We have a few new acolytes and they are doing a great job!
- Flowers
 - Dec. 2 is the only open date left this year. The advent candles will be there on that Sunday as well.
 - The flowers for last Sunday were delivered to the sanctuary, but since the power was out, no one knew or brought them to the fellowship hall. And of course, there was no dedication as there was no bulletin. Therefore, the committee voted to absorb the cost of that week's flowers.

Music

- Hand bells will play this Sunday, need to ask for some help moving the tables after the service
- As of now we are $2100 under budget, so Bob would like to add an interim bass section leader

Other Business

- We will have Kirkin o' the Tartan on October 28, Reformation Sunday
 - Johnny Burriss will play outside before the service
 - Jack Barry and a friend will play during the service
 - We will have a new "McDonald" tartan
- Next Meeting date is November 13th

Closing Prayer - Charlie

Next Meeting: November 13th, 2018
